Economist Says Gov't Is Not Chief Cause of Inflation

WASHINGTON (UP) — Former President Truman's chief economic adviser said today "we should stop passing the buck" to the federal government as the chief cause of inflation.

"It is much nearer to the truth," he said, "to say that the real source of inflation" lies with business and labor.

The economist, Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, said the Eisenhower administration "has done a good deal toward curbing the inflation whose seeds were sown in the war and early postwar period."

Nourse made the statements in remarks prepared for the opening of a two-day conference sponsored by the National Citizens Committee to Curb Inflation.

Three Illinois Men Dead in Kentucky Crash

Airliner Down in British Columbia;
14 Killed, 4 Survive

By United Press

An airliner crashed with a heavy loss of life at Port Hardy, B. C., Sunday, but another liner made an emergency belly landing at Minneapolis without a scratch to its passengers or crew.

At least 17 persons were killed in two plane wrecks Sunday. Nineteen other persons escaped unhurt in crash landings Sunday and today.

At Port Hardy, 14 persons were killed when a Pacific Western Airlines DC3 crashed shortly after take-off. Only four persons survived the flaming crash.

Among the survivors was stewardess Pat Wilson, 23, Vancouver, who helped comfort the injured and dying despite her own severe injuries. Both the pilot and co-pilot were killed.

The crash was blamed on a ground control block which apparently was left on the plane's tail assembly by the ground crew.

Three Illinois men were killed Sunday when their light plane crashed on a farm near Hardinsburg, Ky. The plane, en route to Pekin, Ill., also plunged to earth shortly after takeoff.

Killed were Harold E. Saylor, 46, and Richard Franklin Lippert, 20, both of Pekin, and Willard Bates, 30, of Washington, Ill.

Seven passengers and three crew members escaped injury today when a crippled North Central Airlines DC3 made a safe wheels-up landing at Wold-Chamberlain International Airport in Minneapolis.

Nine Navy men escaped unhurt Sunday when their twin-engine Neptune patrol bomber made an emergency landing in Lake Champlain near Ethan Allen Air Force Base, Vt.

The pilot, Richard Schwallier, 28, Grosse Ile, Mich., ditched the plane on a sandbar covered with 18 feet of water when the craft developed engine trouble.

Army Reduces August Draft Call

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense Department today cut its Army draft call for August to 11,000 men—2,000 less than in the four preceding months.

The department said the lower draft call was made possible by increased enlistments and re-enlistments.

The Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force do not intend to make draft calls through selective service during August.

Hutsonville Girl Drowns

ROBINSON, Ill. (UP)—A University of Indiana freshman drowned Sunday in a private lake near here.

Authorities said Phoebe Colliflower, 18, Hutsonville, Ill., went under while swimming from the bank to a raft at the Dr. G. F. Schmidt Jr., Lake four miles west of here.

Men Cool to Jobs

Topsy-Turvy Election Has Town in Uproar; Women Refuse to Serve

EASTVILLE, Va. (UP) — This small town on the eastern shore of Virginia was in an uproar today over the results of a topsy-turvy election that swept the mayor and his six-man council out of office.

Elected on write-in votes were their wives and in one case the mother of a councilman.

The women, however, refuse to take office. They said the positions have been "made light of."

The men don't want their jobs back, either. They feel they've been made laughing stocks.

The trouble arose after the elections June 12 in which only 24 of the town's registered voters turned out. The write-in votes which swung the election appar-

AEC Unleashes Powerful A-Blast, Heaviest of Series

U. S. Able to Produce Nearly Clean A-Bomb

Top Scientists
Make Report
To Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (UP) — Three top nuclear scientists told President Eisenhower today that the United States now is able to produce a nuclear bomb almost free of radioactive fallout.

The scientists, accompanied by Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis Strauss at a White House conference, declined to say whether such a weapon is now in production or whether future testing will be needed to perfect the "clean" bomb.

Strauss said the scientists could go no further publicly than to say they told the President that "considerable further progress" has been achieved in getting a "clean" bomb since Eisenhower's statement earlier this month that 90 per cent of radioactive fallout had been eliminated in the latest U. S. bombs.

Dr. Ernest O. Lawrence added that the nine-tenths clean statement is now "highly conservative."

Lawrence, Dr. Mark M. Mills and Dr. Edward Teller, all from the University of California radiation laboratory, were the three scientists who conferred with the President and Strauss this morning for 40 minutes.

Strauss said the scientists were here last week to testify before the Joint Atomic Congressional Committee and to confer with the AEC's division of military appropriations. They stayed here to report to Eisenhower.

Lawrence said they brought the President "up to date in the latest developments toward clean nuclear weapons to solve the fall-out problem."

Lawrence said he wanted to emphasize that there is no "significant" fallout problem because of nuclear tests to date. He said the fallout dangers from the testing have been negligible "compared with the fallout we have experienced from the sun since the beginning of time."

But he said the danger of fallout in event of a "great war" would be another matter.

Bing Crosby Labels Popular Music on Radio, TV as 'Trash'

WASHINGTON (UP) — Crooner Bing Crosby struck a harsh note Sunday night in commenting on popular music played on radio and television. He labelled it just "so much trash."

Crosby told the Senate that broadcast music is not having a good effect on the morals, ideals and tastes of the American public.

He laid the blame squarely on the doorstep of Broadcast Music, Inc. (BMI), a song-publishing organization owned by the radio-TV industry.

The singer asserted that the networks and broadcasting stations are depriving the public of "first rate" music by favoring BMI tunes on the airways over songs written by composers of the rival American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP).

Crosby, who has warbled every type of song from ragtime to rock 'n' roll, levelled the charges in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee.

In New York, Robert J. Burton, vice president of BMI, said the Crosby letter was "part of a continuing effort to prejudice a jury trial" in a law suit brought by ASCAP members against BMI.

Crosby told Magnuson that he himself had not been "pressured into singing anything." But he said "subtly and by inference my cooperation has certainly been solicited."

"It just galls me exceedingly to see so much trash on our airwaves and TV screens, while the work of the talented, dedicated songwriters is crowded out of the picture," Der Bingle said.

"The state of this stuff," he added, "is surely not accidental, attributable to a radical change in public taste, nor due to a sudden unanimous failure of talent among established songwriters."

"I think it is the result of pressure exerted by BMI," Crosby stated.

2 Indiana Men Charged With Eldorado Burglaries

Marshall Mimms, 40, and Austin Jones, 23, both of Princeton, Ind., were charged with burglary today in connection with the break-ins of the Carter Service station and the Town House cafe on Route 45 at Eldorado early Saturday.

Harry L. McCabe, assistant state's attorney, said that the two, when arraigned before Justice of the Peace O. L. Woods, were bound over to await the action of the grand jury and their bonds were set at $2,000 each.

Mimms, when questioned this morning by Sheriff William T. Barrett and deputies, admitted the burglaries, stating they got the doors open with a screw driver. Jones, who admitted he was on probation for burglary, would not admit taking part in the break-ins. Officers said that approximately $80 was taken in the two burglaries, that it was recovered from where it was thrown out on Billman road when the pair was confronted by State Policemen Guthrie Alexander and Michael Taggart in the early morning hours Saturday.

Mimms was arrested south of Eldorado following a brief chase but Jones made a getaway, being caught later near Norris City.

Mimms told officers that he had been staying with Jones for the past few weeks and that the two set out in Jones' automobile. He said they committed the burglaries because they needed money.

Jones said that he had been in Harrisburg a number of times and that he and Mimms were here only last Tuesday, visiting with people here whom they knew.

Rips Door Off Control Point 14 Miles Away

Explosion Set Off
To Test Civilian Underground Shelters

ATOP ANGELS' PEAK, Nev. (UP)—The Atomic Energy Commission unleashed the fifth and heaviest atomic explosion of its 1957 experiments today—a blast so powerful it ripped off a door and cracked the concrete wall of the control blockhouse 14 miles away.

The AEC said no one was hurt in the control point.

Its mighty flash shamed the post-dawn daylight and momentarily blinded unguarded witnesses 45 miles distant. Its sound wave bounced off a stratosphere layer and was heard in Reno, Nev., 300 miles away.

The detonation was set up as the first major test, in the scheduled 20-shot series, of a totally new approach to civilian underground shelters.

In addition to testing the survival characteristics of civilian shelters beneath concrete domes, experiments were conducted to determine the most suitable radiation-protective clothing for soldiers and civilians and the effects of radiation fallout on foodstuff.

Interior doors at the control point swung freely in the earthquake-like shock wave, the AEC reported.

The entry-way door went flying off its hinges and a four-foot long crack split the thick concrete wall near the damaged door. The damage showed moments after the secret atomic device exploded at 8:30 a. m. c.d.t. from a platform suspended beneath a captive balloon 700 feet above the floor of the Nevada proving grounds.

The size of the fireball and the resulting above-nominal size mushroom cloud betokened the series' most powerful blast of nuclear fission. It was estimated roughly to be equivalent of 30,000 tons of TNT or more. That is 10,000 more tons of TNT kick than the Hiroshima-Nagasaki bombs.

Spread beneath the balloon at varying distances were shelters that looked like a colony of giant trap-door spider homes. These were thick concrete dome structures in which humans are intended to enter and exit via pop-up steel doors.

A total of nearly 1,000 military observers occupied trenches 5.1 miles from ground zero, the first use of troops close up in the current series.

However, troops have been used in tests during previous years. They have been stationed up to 1.5 miles from ground zero, although undergoing less powerful blasts.

Military items for testing included field fortifications, fox holes and gun emplacements and battlefield equipment in addition to various types of protective wear for the soldier of the atomic age.

From Angels' Peak, the blast appeared to devastate the ground beneath it. Within a fraction of a second the entire 10-mile wide area of Frenchman's Flat was obliterated by dust.

But the AEC said the fireball did not touch the ground, thereby lessening the burden of radioactive dust picked up by the cloud.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Secretary Humphrey Made
Tremendous Profits From M.
A. Hanna Co.; He Kept Stock,
Despite His Powerful Position
In Cabinet; Senators Want To Know If He Influenced Company's Profits.

WASHINGTON. — For the first time in the four years he has been in office, the public has had a chance to look at the stocks owned by Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey. They were inserted in the record last week by Senator Byrd of Virginia.

If you take the trouble to compare those stocks with the earnings of those stocks, they show an amazing income for the man who runs the nation's Treasury.

Secretary Humphrey owns 67, 555 shares of common stock in the M. A. Hanna Co., founded by the famous Mark A. Hanna, the Ohio political boss who put President McKinley in office.

The financial report of the M.
A. Hanna Co., issued for 1956, boasts of the best profits in its history. It was meant, of course for the eyes of stockholders, not for the prying eyes of a Senate committee.

"The consolidated net profit for the M. A. Hanna Co. for 1956," says the annual report, "amounted to $19,491,884. This is an all-time record, exceeding by 25 per cent the 1955 record of $15,602,703.
Dividends of $3 a share, paid of both classes of common stock, amounted to $39,274,176."

This $3 dividend, paid on Secretary Humphrey's 67,555 shares, means that he made $202,665 last year from M. A. Hanna stock alone. This does not include profits from the tremendous holdings he had in affiliated companies.

So the big question senators want to ask is: Did Secretary Humphrey profit from his own fiscal policies and did he use undue influence to benefit his own companies while he occupied the most potent cabinet post in government?

When he was up for Senate confirmation, Jan. 19, 1953, Senator

Byrd asked him:

REFUSED TO SELL STOCK

"The law says you shall not directly or indirectly be concerned or interested in carrying on the business of trade or commerce

... While you are secretary of the treasury will you engage in any business or trade or commerce personally, directly or indirectly?"

Mr. Humphrey: "I will engage in no business whatever personally or indirectly."

Sen. Byrd: "Will you attempt while you are secretary of the treasury to prosecute or help forward or to continue or to carry out or any of the businesses with which you have been identified?"

M. Humphrey: "I will not. I am completely out."

Sen. Byrd: "I think you have stated it with sufficient clarity but I want to make it clear again you do not intend to influence any of these companies in any way in the conduct of their businesses while you are secretary of the treasury?"

Mr. Humphrey: "I will have no connection with the management of these businesses."

During this cross-examination
Humphrey refused to sell his stock.
He argued that the law did not forbid him to own stock, and he cited his law firm as authority. One of his lawyers, Chan-man Rose, was then made assistant secretary of the treasury, while his brother, Nelson Rose was made counsel of the treasury's internal revenue service.

HUMPHREY'S BUSINESS THRIVES

As Humphrey stepped into the most powerful fiscal position in the world, he handed the reins of his company largely to his son Gilbert. He then became a director of the World Bank, the dominant figure of the Export-Import Bank, a director of the foreign trade zones board, and chairman of the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Problems.

What he did affected not only the amount of taxes we pay, the collection of those taxes, and interest rates all over the United States, but it also affected whether certain countries received loans.

In 1953, Brazil needed $300,000,

400 from the Export-Import Bank.
The State Department okayed the loan, but the treasury balked.
When Brazilian Ambassador Walter Moreira Salles went to treasury assistant Randolph Burgess, Burgess stated bluntly:

"My boss doesn't like Brazil very much." Then he went on to tell how the Hanna company had been negotiating for a man-gane concession in Amapa in the northern Amazon but how Bethlehem Steel got the concession instead.

Thereafter Brazilian National Steel, 85 per cent owned by the Brazilian government, canceled a long-standing arrangement to buy coal through Eastern Fuel and Gas. It had been buying coal for about 10 years, was entirely satisfied with Eastern's coal. But it contracted for 750,000 tons a year from Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal, a Hanna subsidiary.

Secretary Humphrey, according to the Senate record, owns 20,000 shares of Pittsburgh Consolidation.

On Jan. 1, 1953, when George Humphrey became secretary of the treasury, Pittsburgh Consolidation stock had a market value of $126,160,704. On March 12, 1957, it had a market value of $368, 306,250. In other words, it had increased in value $242,145,546 during the period George Humphrey was secretary of the treasury.

The value of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal stock, as listed on page 15 of the annual report of the Hanna Co., is $45.50 per share.
At this figure, Secretary Humphrey's block of 20,000 shares, which he told senators he had a right to keep, is now valued at $910,000.

Pittsburgh Consolidation also profited from another move which the Eisenhower administration did nothing to stop. It merged with Pocahontas Fuel, which produces a type of metallurgical coal necessary for steel production.

A merger between Pittsburgh Consolidation, the biggest coal company in the world, and Pocahontas, another giant, should have brought anti-trust action from Justice Department. None was taken.

The Justice Department moved against Secretary Wilson's former

Two Boys Accused Of Killing Father of One from Ambush

PHILADELPHIA (U)—Two teen age boys were accused today of plotting the death of the father of one of them, then lying in wait and fatally shooting him as he sat on the steps of his home.

Curtis Edwards, 14, whose father died in the electric chair two years ago for a holdup-murder, is accused of firing a shot from ambush which killed Martin Daniels, the father of his pal.

Martin Daniels Jr., 16, was charged with plotting his father's death. His father was killed by a single shot from a rifle as he sat on his front porch steps Saturday night with his arm around another son.

Reports said young Daniels and his father argued in a taproom when the boy and his mother went to obtain money from him.

Flora to Vote on Airport Authority

FLORA, Ill. — Voters in this area will ballot Tuesday on creation of an airport authority. The 18-square mile area included in the proposed authority would include the city of Flora.

Creation of the authority would qualify the area for more than $100,000 in federal and state funds for a modern airport.

Hell Necessary To Restrain Sin, Evangelist Says

NEW YORK (UP) — Evangelist Billy Graham said Sunday night that Hell is necessary to keep man from sin as the electric chair is necessary as a deterrent to murder.

Graham discussed his concept of hell before some 18,300 persons in Madison Square Garden.

The North Carolina preacher said he did not know what hell was like "but I know the word fire is used figuratively in the Bible."

"I took my degree in college anthropology," he said. "We never did find a tribe in the world that did not believe in God and redemption. Hell is needed to restrain man from sin — take away the fear of jails and electric chairs and New York would become a hell overnight. Let the gangsters into heaven and they'd make a pig pen out of it."

Graham said God does not send you to hell. He offers a way of salvation but that each individual selected his own road. He warned that those attending his crusade had a chance for redemption if they did not wait too long.

"One minute after death and it'll be too late," Graham said. "For many the death bed will be too late."

"Many ministers have distorted the concept of hell," he said. "Others have taken the Bible apart and fixed it to agree with their own notions."

Three Firms Boost Price of Gasoline

HOUSTON, Tex. — Gulf Oil Corp. today followed the lead of Sinclair and Continental Oil to boost the price of gasoline.

Gulf increased its tankwagon price to dealers to about 1 penny to every five gallons purchased, or two-tenths of a cent per gallon. The same increase applied also to kerosene, distillate and naphtha. Gulf also boosted residual fuel oil 5 cents a barrel.

The increases were expected to be passed on to the motoring public by the dealers.

All three firms said the increases were made necessary because of wage boosts, new employee benefits and capital requirements.

Three Killed In Auto Collision

TROY, Mo. — Three persons were killed and a fourth critically injured in a head-on automobile collision Sunday night on U. S. 61 nine miles north of here.

The victims were Clifford E. Brown, 48, and his wife, Margaret, 40, Creve Coeur, St. Louis County, and a passenger, Jaytee Brown, 56, Quincy, Ill. The driver of the second car, William Meury, 53, Whiteside, was in critical condition. He was taken to St. Luke's hospital in St. Louis.

State police said apparently the Meury car was across the center line when it met the auto driven by Mrs. Brown.

Woman Falls Into Creek, Drowns

LEBANON, Ill. — An East St. Louis mother drowned Sunday while her four children looked on from the bank of Silver Creek here.

St. Clair county deputies said Mrs. Frances Overton fell into the creek and her husband and brother failed in a rescue attempt.

The Overton family was on a fishing trip and had camped out Saturday night. They were preparing to return home when Mrs. Overton slipped and fell down the steep embankment of the rain-swollen creek.

Lebanon volunteer firemen recovered the body.

Safes Blasted Open at Anna

ANNA, Ill. — Safe-crackers got more than $1,500 Saturday from blasting open safes in two local lodge rooms.

Police Chief Dallas West said the robbers appeared to be professional and apparently used nitroglycerine to open the safes in the Elks and Moose lodges.

The lodges, which adjoin each other, were apparently entered through skylights, said West. The robbers took only cash.

Criticize Stratton For Holding Down Aid To State TB Hospitals

CHICAGO — Dr. George C. Turner, chairman of the tuberculosis committee of the Illinois Medical Society, criticized Gov. William G. Stratton for holding down proposals for more aid to tuberculosis hospitals.

Stratton has indicated that perhaps all state aid should be cut off from the Municipal Tuberculosis Sanitarium in Chicago and seven other similar institutions in the state and that local taxes be used to support the hospitals.

Turner said that Stratton should be thinking in terms of more state aid to fight tuberculosis, rather than less. He said state help should contribute to iron out the "imbalance between poor and rich counties" in the fight against TB.

Girl Fatally Injured On Golf Course

PEORIA, Ill. — Mary Sheple, 15, Peoria, died early today at a Peoria hospital after she was critically injured when she and two teen-age companions were "joyriding" around a local golf course.

Authorities said the car, driven by Donald Aldraf, 17, also of Peoria, rammed into a "bunker" near the 12th hole of the Madison golf course south of here.

The girl apparently was thrown against the car's dashboard. Aldraf and the other youth were not injured.

Reds Continue Blasphemy Against Korea Build-Up

TOKYO (UP) — The Communist radio said today the Reds will "fight resolutely to defend the Korean armistice agreement" against the U. S. decision to match the Communist military buildup in the divided country.

Radio Peiping broadcast a round-the-clock barrage of statements by Red leaders in China and Korea saying "the United States must be responsible for all consequences" of the decision.

"The U. S. aggressive bloc regards South Korea, South Viet Nam and Taiwan (Formosa) as three fronts... for attack against (Red) China," said a broadcast quoting the Peiping "People's Daily."

"To prevent a relaxation of tension in Asia, they are using every conceivable means to tighten their control of these three military bases." The propaganda barrage was touched off by the decision, announced Friday, to scrap paragraph 13D of the truce agreement.

Office Renovation is Preferred to Pay Rise

PETOSKY, Mich. (AP)—City Clerk Virginia Hubbard recently refused a pay hike voted by the city council and asked that the money be used to improve the office she shares with the city treasurer.

The office improvements work make it an "easier place to work and serve the public," she said.

The council asked Mrs. Hubbard to submit sketches of proposed changes.

Downstate Fisherman's Guide

Little Grassy Continues Top Bass Spot; Lakes in Good Condition

By Pete Brown
(From reports by the Southern Illinois University Cooperative Fisheries Research Laboratory and the Illinois Department of Conservation)

Little Grassy Lake continues to be Southern Illinois' hottest spot for bass, although the pace has slowed down a bit. Several anglers have reported limit catches including many bass in the four to seven pound range.

This is not to say that all fishermen are coming in with loaded stringers, but the favorite spots known to those who fish the lake frequently have been producing consistently. Those unfamiliar with the lake would be wise to throw deep-running lures—the Bomber is far and away the best—near the various points of land, in fairly deep water and in deep holes beside the old roadbeds.

After-dark fishing at Grassy has been good, and several four to six pounders have been caught in medium-shallow water adjacent to shoreline weed beds and gravel bars. The big ones are apparently feeding after most of the boat traffic has subsided for the day. Surface lures have not been producing much for the past week.

In the first 19 days of June, Albert Peithmann, Carbondale, master of the salt-water reel, the lightning retrieve and the fin-bent Bombers, had dented the Little Grassy population to the tune of 65 bass. Further proof that Grassy is still the bass capital of Southern Illinois can be supplied by such anglers as Charles Vorhees, Murphysboro; George Patterson, N. B. Runalls, Nick Masters, Paul Ellis and H. B. Berger, Carbondale; Earl Ferguson of Benton; Bob Kelly, Cobden; C. Hankel-meyer, St. Louis G. R. Benson, Batavia and Carl Vickers, Centralia. They all strung up bass going from three and one half to more than seven pounds. Two fishermen named Charles Oliver and Jack Robinson hit a Sunday (June 16) jackpot of six bass weighing a total of 32 pounds. They were fishing with the black eel and lead heads.

The bass action is holding up at Lake Murphysboro, although few of the catches are going over two pounds. Bluegill are hitting lustily and John Hodgson, Murphysboro landed a five and one-quarter pound channel cat as well as several smaller ones.

Pinekevillie City Lake is in good condition and the early morning and evening hours have been productive for small to medium-sized bass. They're hitting poppers of all sizes. Two men netted a six pounder, a four and one-half pounder and a two pounder using big bass poppers. Bluegill fishing has been spotty. The ones caught have been taken on worms.

Bluegill are hitting off their spawning beds under the willows at Lake Moses. A few four pound bass catches have been reported, but crappie fishing has tapered off somewhat. When checked June 18 the water temperature was 86 degrees.

At Pounds Hollow the water looks excellent but few fishermen were abroad. A local citizen, asked for a comment on Pounds Hollow fishing, made what may well be the all-time classic statement about the sport in general: "Some catches 'em, some don't."

Sahara Lake, registering 84 degrees on the surface, is crystal clear but fishing has been slack. The bluegill also are running on the smallish side.

Fishermen using the worm harness have taken some bass in the willows at the north end of Eldorado reservoir. Although high, the water is in good condition.

Bullhead fishermen have been loading some excellent catches at Harrisburg Reservoir, where the popular method is bottom fishing with worms on rod and reel. The cats are averaging eight to 10 inches. One to three-pound bass are hitting minnows and poppers, and lots of small bluegill are being taken on worms.

According to reports, the many ponds north of the Du Quoin Fair grounds—all of them open to the public—have yielded a few nice bass. No fishermen were on hand when the blue-grass bordered ponds were checked, but the water was clear and clean in all of them.

Crab Orchard Lake is clearing again, but few catches have been recorded outside of the area below the spillway. Before the last storm, Nick Masters and Irvin Peithmann brought in seven bass, ranging from three to six pounds, but this is something of an exception.

George Carson, outdoor editor of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, will stage a free public fishing clinic at Tower Grove Park in St. Louis, Saturday, June 29, from 1-5 p. m. A couple of national bait-casting champions, plug-maker Paul Houser, archer Ted Hofstetter, flycasting champ Fred Sexauer and many other angling experts will be on hand. Demonstrations will range from knot-tying to methods of picking up catfish without getting finned. Carson—who will clean a turtle during the demonstrations—will emcee the clinic.

VFW Loses at Henderson, 15-7

The Harrisburg VFW baseball team was rained out of its Saturday night game with Richland, Ind., and was soundly thumped by Henderson, Ky., Sunday afternoon on the latter's diamond by a score of 15-7.

Jim Wallace, an ex-big leaguer who pitched for the old Boston Braves, tossed a 7 hitter at the locals. He literally tossed it too as he used mostly change up pitches and kept the local hitters off stride. O'man with 4 for 5 and Ward with 3 for 3 collected 7 of the home club's 12 base hits.

Jim Hay, Harrisburg right fielder, collected 2 hits to lead the VFW hitters. Dick Odle, Bob Dallas, Dick Romanosky, Raymond Siskis, and Donald Stout got the other VFW hits.

Dick Odle made the best play of the game when he drove deep down the left field line and caught a Texas leaguer to choke off two runs.

Next Saturday the VFW will play the Springfield Tigers here. This is a replay of a rained out game and will complete the first half of play in the Oil Belt League for the VFW.

Mantle Gets Six Hits As Yanks, White Sox Split; Cards Beat Brooklyn, 4-3

By United Press
Mickey Mantle couldn't put over the crusher on the Chicago White Sox all by himself, but his devastating 486 three - week batting spurge has the New York Yankees looking like world champions again.

Mantle staged a one - man riot for the season's largest crowd, 63,787, Sunday with six hits as the Yankees retained their half-game American League lead in their split with the White Sox. Mickey had four hits in the Yankees' 9-2 opening win and crashed a three-run homer in the ninth inning of the nightcap but the Sox hung on to win, 4-3.

The victory in the nightcap enabled the Sox to snap the Yankees' 10-game winning streak and salvage one game of the key four-game series.

Mantle, who could become the major's first 400 hitter since Ted Williams in 1941, had three singles and a double as the Yankees pounded out 16 hits to hand Billy Pierce his fifth defeat in the opener. Bobby Shantz limited the Sox to six hits to win his eighth straight game and raise his season's mark to 9-1.

Homer Victory Margin

Dick Donovan shut out the Yankees with three hits for eight innings in the second game but then Mantle lowered the boom with his three-run homer in the ninth and the Sox didn't elch the verdict until Paul LaPalme struck out pinch-hitter Darrell Johnson with two runners in scoring position. Nelson Fox' seventh-inning homer was the margin of victory for the Sox.

The Cleveland Indians whipped the Washington Senators, 4-2 and 7-5, the Boston Red Sox walloped the Kansas City Athletics, 10-6 and 10-1, and the Baltimore Orioles beat the Detroit Tigers, 5-4, in the other A. L. games.

In the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals downed the slumping Brooklyn Dodgers, 4-3, and led by one game when the Milwaukee Braves scored 7-6 and 7-3 victories over the Philadelphia Phillies. The Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3 and 5-2, and the New York Giants topped the Chicago Cubs 7-2 and 5-1, in other N. L. activity.

Ninth Loss for Roberts
Wally Moon tripled home two runs and then stole home with the decisive run for the Cardinals. Larry Jackson scored his ninth win although he needed help from Hoyt Wilhelm in the ninth while Don Drysdale dropped his fourth decision.

Bill Bruton knocked in three runs in the nightcap for the Braves after Hank Aaron singled home the winning run in the ninth inning of the opener to deal Robin Roberts his ninth defeat.

Adcock Suffers Fractured Ankle

MILWAUKEE — The pennant-contending Milwaukee Braves will be without the bat of first-baseman Joe Adcock for the next 6 to 8 weeks because of a fractured ankle.

The big first baseman, beset by a bad knee for the past month, fractured a small bone in his right ankle and tore some ligaments when he slid into second base during the second inning of Sunday's second game with Philadelphia.

Adcock had walked and ran to second on Del Crandall's infield hit. He slid into the bag to avoid a tag by second-baseman Eddie Kazanski and couldn't get up.

Obviously in pain, Adcock was carried from the field on a stretcher and taken to a hospital for an x-ray which disclosed the full extent of the injury.

Bob Buhl won his eighth game and Taylor Phillips his third for the Braves, who went back into second place.

George Crowe hit two homers and Don Hoak, Frank Robinson and Smokey Burgess one each in Cincinnati's sweep of the Pirates, which was marked by another "duster" breakout. The umpires finally threatened both managers after Pittsburgh's Ron Kline and Cincinnati's Tom Acker threw pitches that knocked down rival hitters.

Johnny Antonelli won his fifth game and Curt Barclay his third as the Giants swept their first doubleheader of the season. Bobby Thomson had two hits in each game to help hand prize Cub pitchers Dick Drutt and Moe Drabowsky the losses.

AROUND SPRINGFIELD

By DON E. CHAMBERLAIN
Conscience-Stricken 'Litterbug'
Sends $100 to Governor Stratton

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (Special) — A litterbug with a conscience has sent Gov. William G. Stratton five new crisp $20 bills to solace the guilty conscience. The man, who did not identify himself, wrote from Toledo, Ohio, to say that while driving on an Illinois highway he threw a broken water jug down an embankment on either Route 45 or 37.

Later, he said in the letter, he saw a sign stating the fine for "litterbugging" was $100 and mailed the money. The bills will go into the usual "conscience fund" in the state treasury. The money and letter, written in ink, were placed between small pieces of stiff cardboard presumably to keep the crease in the currency and were mailed from Toledo on May 23rd.

The envelope was addressed to the Governor of Ill., Springfield, Ill., and was marked "personal." At the top of the letter it had the words "I am sorry" and to the right of that was repeated "Governor of Ill." The letter read as follows:

"Dear Sir—Sometime ago I threw a broken water jug down an embankment on Route 45 or 37 (US 45 runs the length of the state from the Illinois-Wisconsin border in Lake county to Metropolis across the Ohio river from Kentucky and Illinois 37 leaves US 45 south of Effingham and goes to Cairo at the extreme south end of the state) I don't know which. It was on the west side.

"I didn't do it as you think. I am a Christian and don't do these things. Yet I did. For a long time I didn't think about it. That sounds crazy, yet true. Then I thought there must have been a reason. Then I found the reason. It was one way God has of doing me a great service that I could not do myself, believe it or not."

The letter said I saw a sign later. The fine was 100 dollars. I am sending it and I hope, you will not make me a lot of trouble. I have the numbers of the bills. It was concluded abruptly at the bottom of the letter which consisted of a single page with the words "That's all" and no signature. Although it looked like there might be a second page only one sheet was in the envelope.

Something new in the House of the General Assembly are field glasses which members in the back rows or who do not have the best vision, use to scan the big electric roll-call boards which flash red for "no" and green for "yes." Some members have missed their votes because of occasional faulty machinery, but the field glasses now keep them informed.

In addition to letting them know whether their vote is recorded accurately they also see how the voting is going and where it is close, switch from a "yes" to a "no" or vice versa as they feel about it. Members using field glasses include Reps. Robert Austin, R., Rock Island, George Dolezal, R., Berwyn, and Elmer Q. Conti, R., Franklin Park.

It's a long way to 1958 when statewide off-year elections will be held for state, district and local offices, but supporters of Sam Young, Evanston, Assistant Secretary of State, and Edward Pree Jr., Springfield, an administrative assistant to Governor William G. Stratton and who is in charge of state patronage, are booming both for state offices.

Neither Young nor Pree are talking, but Young's friends see him as the next attorney general or state treasurer. Pree's supporters would run him for attorney general, among them Livingston County Circuit Judge Hubert H. Edwards, Pontiac who introduced Pree at a recent Pontiac political meeting as "the next attorney general."

Pree said he was "highly complimented" but is in no position to discuss such a possibility. He suggested Edwards' statement may have been promoted by a belief that Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, Sandwich, is a likely possibility for appointment to the federal bench. An outspoken candidate for Republican state treasurer, however, is Warren Wright, Park Ridge, who has held the office twice.

Doctor Agrees to Withdraw $1,500 Bill to Hoopers

MANORVILLE, N. Y. (AP) — Benny Hooper's doctor bowed to a panel of medical mediators Saturday and agreed to withdraw his bill for $1,500 for "services rendered" in helping to save the boy from death in a well.

Dr. Joseph H. Kris, the object of nationwide criticism since his bill was disclosed, acted "in the best traditions of medicine" in accepting a ruling of his fellow doctors that there should be no price tag on the treatment for the 7-year-old boy.

The Suffolk County Medical Society's mediation committee decided in several hours of deliberations that Kris should not be paid. The doctor agreed to the decision without protest, the committee announced. The doctors' committee also praised Kris for the treatment he gave Benny during 23 hours in a backyard well last May and said the bill had been based on a misunderstanding.
